Company Info: USANA Health Sciences is one of the leading health related companies in network marketing. USANA products are leading edge in both nutritional supplements and skin-care. The company is publicly traded and manufactures and distributes pharmaceutical-grade nutritional supplements, certified low-glycemic nutrition bars & shakes, and an anti-aging skin-care line based on cellular nutrition called SENSE®. SENSE contains an exclusive, patent-pending, self-preserving formula that eliminates the use of traditional paraben preservatives.

Everything about USANA comes off first class and the company seems to be a shoe-in every year for the Distributor Choice Awards for Best Companies in Network Marketing due to the proactivity of its distributors. These distributors are smart enough to realize that by winning this award helps them to sponsor in many more new distributors into the USANA opportunity. Over 50,000 people participated during 2005 in the Distributor Choice Award voting and once again USANA won by a comfortable margin. Congratulations to the 2005 Distributor Choice Award Winning Company, USANA Health Sciences.
